LIVES & WORKS IN

EDMONTON

ABOUT

Verne Busby is a Canadian contemporary artist whose atmospheric paintings explore the emotional resonance of landscape through colour, movement, and abstraction. Working with richly layered surfaces and an intuitive sense of composition, Busby creates immersive works that balance gesture and stillness, evoking both memory and place with striking sensitivity.

Rooted in an expressive visual language, the artist's practice moves fluidly between representation and abstraction, allowing texture, light, and form to guide each composition. Broad passages of colour and energetic mark-making lend a sense of rhythm and depth to Busby's work, while quieter moments of restraint invite contemplation and pause.

Drawing inspiration from the Canadian landscape and the fleeting impressions left by travel and lived experience, Busby's paintings possess a deeply reflective quality. His works are both grounded and ethereal meditations on atmosphere, movement, and the emotional imprint of the natural world.
